Dear Parents/Carers,

I would like to start this week by saying how incredibly proud I am of all of our Year 6 children for the way in which they applied themselves this week. Opinion is always divided on the merit of the SATs tests in both the teaching profession and the wider media but they are a reality that the children have to encounter. The children went about the tests in exactly the right way with an inner determination to try their very best and show how well they have progressed in their journey through our school. SATs results are of course only one way to measure the children. If we could have measured effort, commitment and hard work this week our children would all have scored very highly indeed!

At the start of May we were visited by some of our colleagues from the Multi Academy Trust (MAT) which we are part of the Community Inclusive Trust (CIT). The school has now been part of the trust for just over a year (joining on 1st March 2018) and they visited to undertake a 'Health Check'. The Health Check is an important process by which the school's current strengths and areas for development are identified. After the Health Check a report is produced. The report from our Health Check can be found on the school website under 'Statutory Information'. We are very pleased with the outcomes of the report and feel that it accurately reflects the position the school is currently in. A lot has changed in the school to give the children the very best education, we are pleased this has been recognised. Of course there are still many things for us to continue to work on but I know all of the adults in school work hard each and every day to ensure the children get the very best.

Enjoy your weekend.

Graham Almond - a very proud Headteacher
